

Peace and goodwill for all...
thanks to superfast broadband!

Picture this happy festive scene...

Mum is frantically emailing last minute Christmas cards to her business customers, whilst keeping an eye on the mince pies in the oven. Dad is keeping her company, while streaming The Great Escape on his laptop. (Well, it's a Christmas tradition, isn't it?) Gran is watching that Bake Off final again on BBC i-Player, using their HD Widescreen TV, while also doing a bit of 'retail research' on her smartphone ahead of the Boxing Day sales. In the next room, teenager Ewan is playing his favourite online game, with three of his pals from school. Upstairs, Cat is home from Uni and has been Skyping the latest Love of Her Life for three hours...

Does this sound far fetched?

Well, thanks to Digital Scotland, scenes like this could be happening at over 455,000 Scottish homes this Christmas, maybe even yours*! Why? Because fibre broadband is now available in your area! So now you can make the most of the internet, however many family and friends are online at the same time.

Contact your internet service provider and order fibre broadband today. You may discover it costs far less than you think. (So you can spend more on Quality Street!)

Find out more at:

www.scotlandsuperfast.com

You can also compare internet service providers at: www.broadband.co.uk

Let's get on

Funded by:

DSSB-PC-15-004

